MAINE DEFEATS LOWELL 14-0 FOR FIRST VICTORY; M'BRIDE, PARSONS SCORE

Blue Touchdowns Come In First Half. Lowell Threatens Once

The University of Maine football team broke into the win column for the first time this year last Saturday afternoon when the Black Bears downed a highly touted Lowell Textile eleven 14-0 at Alumni Field.

After the opening kick-off Co-Captain Don Favor ran the ball back to the Maine 35 yard line, and from then on there was no stopping that spirited pale blue team. Milt MacBride, Bob Littlehale, and Ted Butler took turns carrying the ball from Maine's 35 to Lowell's 8 yard line, and in doing so made four first downs. It was second down with eight yards to go for a touchdown when Milt MacBride took the ball and raced across the line for the first score by Maine on their home field this year.

About a minute before the close of the first quarter Athanas, Lowell quarterback, kicked over Maine's goal line, and the ball was brought out twenty yards. Bob Littlehale bucked the line for five yards, and the quarter ended.

The second quarter saw the beginning of another sustained drive by Maine, this time of eighty yards, with the most thrilling finish on Alumni Field this year. With the entire Maine backfield doing its share of ball carrying, the ball was taken to Lowell's seventeen yard line. There the team lost twelve yards on a fumble, but the Maine team was ready for the emergency.

On the next play Don Favor faded back to the forty yard line, and cut loose with a bullet pass to Phil Parsons. Phil tore across the field from his right end position, and then came the tense moment for the Maine fans. The ball hit Phil's hand and bounced back into the air. It came down and hit his shoulder. All this time Phil was running as only he can run and trying to get a grip on that ball. And all this time the Lowell safety man was getting nearer and nearer to Parsons, and Parsons was getting nearer and nearer to the Lowell goal line. When he was about five yards from the line, Phil got a strangle hold on that ball, and was over

RHODES CANDIDATES TO BE CHOSEN SOON

Professor Ashby Ready To Receive Applications For Scholarships

Candidates for Rhodes scholarships will soon be chosen at the University of Maine. Each year exceptional students are approved by President Boardman as candidates representing the University of Maine in the competition for these scholarships.

The Rhodes scholarships were established by the will of Cecil Rhodes in the interest of Anglo-Saxon friendship and solidarity and afford the opportunity for three years of study at Oxford University, Oxford, England. The stipend is 400 pounds a year, which is nearly, if not quite, sufficient to pay tuition and living charges at Oxford and to meet the expenses of travelling in England or on the Continent during vacations.

STEPHEN J. FARRELL EXPIRES IN MICHIGAN FORMER COACH HERE

One of Maine's Best Loved Track Coaches. Dies Of Heart Attack

Stephen J. Farrell, in his youth one of the world's fastest humans, and for seven years track coach at Maine, died of a heart attack Tuesday afternoon at the age of 70 years as he prepared to tee off for the first hole of the University of Michigan golf course.

Farrell retired three years ago as coach of the University of Michigan track team, after 18 years of outstanding service there in developing such runners as Carl Johnson, De Hart Hubbard, and Eddie Tolan. He came to the University of Maine in 1905, and was probably the best loved coach which Maine has ever had in any sport. His teams here were very successful, and three times were winners of the state track meets. Throughout his coaching activities he placed more value upon developing the physique and character of a man than upon developing a winning team.

Farrell, or "Steve" as he was called by his pupils, was born at Rockville, Connecticut, in 1863. In his youth, he gained fame as being able to outrun a horse. He entered professional track with great success, twice winning the English Sheffield handicap, taking $15,000 in prize money.

In 1898 Farrell's athletic career ended when he fell over a stray dog while training for a race, and fractured an ankle. He devoted the remainder of his active life to coaching and training. After four years as a private instructor, he went to Yale as track coach, spent two years there, seven at the University of Maine, and two at Ohio State before going to the University of Michigan in 1912. His last team, the 1930 Michigan track squad, brought him a Big Ten championship.

Many evidences of the high esteem in which he was held while at Maine are to be found in old University publications. The Junior Prism of 1910 was dedicated to him. The following is an excerpt from the May 21, 1909 issue of the Maine Campus:

"Monday morning amid the most resounding cheers and applause the old chapel has ever heard, 'Steve' Farrell was presented with a loving cup by E. L. Towle, '09, on behalf of the student body, in token of the love and respect in which he is held by every man in college. The cheers were so deafening that he was unable to make himself heard for several minutes, but after the demonstration had subsided he responded gracefully to Mr. Towle's speech of presentation.

"Coach Farrell has been with this institution for five years, and during that time has been tireless in his effort to push Maine to the front in the athletic world. He has had numerous obstacles of one sort or another to contend with, but has surmounted them all with a never-failing good humor and optimism which has done a great deal to keep alive the fighting spirit of weaker souls in time of defeat."

At the W.S.G.A. meeting Tuesday, October 17, it was voted that the matter of having student sings would be proposed to the Student Senate and their cooperation asked. It was suggested that sings be held at least once a month.

QUINN REPORTS GYM TO BE OPEN FOR INSPECTION

Interfraternity Council Passes Resolution To Have Houses Pay for Prism Page

At the meeting of the Student Senate held in Rogers Hall Tuesday night, President John B. Quinn reported that as a result of a suggestion made at the first meeting of the Senate this year, the Memorial Gymnasium will be open for inspection week-ends. The suggestion that this be done was made because it was reported that on several occasions visitors to the campus have tried to see the inside of the new building and have been unable to do so, because it has been locked.

A petition of the 1935 Prism Board that the Interfraternity Council pass a resolution to have each fraternity pay for its pages in the book this year was acted upon favorably at the meeting of the Council held Tuesday evening.

Prism Photographers Start Work Sunday

The Prism Board has recently engaged the Howe Studios of Portland, one of the city's leading firms, as official photographers for this year's book. Two photographers from the company will arrive on campus this week to begin their work. Group pictures will be taken Sunday, and the photographers will commence the individual work next week. A picture of every student and faculty member in the University will be taken, absolutely free of charge. The photographs will be taken on the third floor, north wing of Stevens Hall.

The 1935 Prism will contain a picture of every building on the University campus, including more than twenty full page views, and many smaller shots. It will be a pictorial issue covering every phase of campus life.

Members of the Prism board will see every person individually to make appointments. Only about ten minutes' time will be required of each one. Four poses of each person will be taken, and orders for pictures can be had at a special price made by the Howe Studios. The Prism board asks for cooperation from the students in making the appointments and appearing promptly on time.

Lucinda Ripley was erroneously left out of the Prism staff as published a short time ago. Miss Ripley is an assistant business manager.

Council Gives Definition Of 'Organized' in New Plan

After a three hour session in which every angle of the rushing problem was discussed, the Interfraternity Council in a meeting held in Rogers Hall on Tuesday evening reached a conclusion in the definition of "organized" under the new ruling concerning rushing passed by last year's Council.

The chief bone of contention was that a misunderstanding in the interpretation of the new rules, had already led to inequality between the various fraternities on campus, and the Council decided that it would be necessary to take definite action at Tuesday's meeting, in order to establish equity between the fraternities immediately.

The ruling passed, which is an addition to Article II, Section 8, of the Interfraternity Council Constitution which reads: "No freshman shall enter any fraternity house until the first day of the second semester according to the University schedule, nor shall attend any organized fraternity supper, party, or smoker on or off campus during this period," is:

"Organized" shall be defined as:

1. Any financial expenditure for rushing on the part of the fraternity, members of the fraternity, or pledges of the fraternity.

2. Fraternity members or pledges entering freshman residences (Hannibal Hamlin, Oak Hall, and private homes).

3. More than one fraternity member or pledge accompanying one freshman or more than one freshman accompanying one fraternity member or pledge.

These qualifications shall go into effect beginning Wednesday morning, October 18, 1933.

Russian Male Chorus Featured at Concert

The annual Fall Festival Concert, to be given in the Bangor Auditorium the evening of October 25, offers to the public of eastern Maine a program that is unique in our musical annals. For glamor and color it could scarcely be matched. The Don Cossack Russian Male Chorus is one of the great offerings in the musical world today. It has been termed the outstanding musical novelty and sensation of the times. It combines intrinsic musical greatness with the spectacular. It is a rare piece of good fortune that this wonderful attraction could be secured.

The other feature artists, Edwin Strawbridge and Pauline Koner, are leading interpretive dancers before the American public. Their art possesses an originality and picturesqueness that is commanding the enthusiastic and discriminating plaudits of both public and press in the leading music centers.

The packed house at last year's concert was good evidence that audiences of today

Try To Get There

A real chance for Maine students to show their support of the football team will come on the day of the Colby game. The Administration has set this day as one on which classes will be suspended.

The primary purpose of the holiday is to afford students a chance to attend the game, and lend their vocal chords to the team for what they may be worth. Last year on the day of the state track meet the Administration did the same thing, but very few students attended the meet. The same thing must not happen this year, because if it does there is little doubt that such holidays will be abolished. It would be only common sense to continue classes on the day of big athletic events, if students do not attend even when there are no classes.

No doubt there are many reasons why attendance at these events is small, and some of them probably good ones. The chief reason, and an inexcusable one, is that many students take advantage of the holiday to go home, merely for the sake of going home. Far be it from the Campus to suggest that students disregard their homes, but it seems that if we have the right spirit toward our teams we will follow and support them to the utmost.

Therefore let every one of us, if it is at all possible, wend our way to Waterville on the day of the Colby game, November 4, and help out the team.

Mildred Haney, alert and efficient "Y" president, yes, and her cabinet cohorts, too, and the new Secretary, are complacently twirling their thumbs. The "Y" drive went over. In the final round-up Wednesday morning it looked as if half the girls in college had signed the "Y" pledge, to date, one hundred and sixty-five Maine women, surely, a fact gratifying to the hard working membership committee. If the committee are glad to have the past arduous week pass into history, so are the students from whom a dollar and a half was extracted. It is reported that Don Romero parked at the Maples until thirty-two of the busy Freshmen yielded.

James D. Hanson '35, Phi Kappa, has been appointed head cheer leader for the remainder of the football season by Theodore S. Curtis, faculty manager of athletics. Hanson will replace Carl Ingraham, who served in this capacity during the Rhode Island game.

At a meeting called by Fern Allen, senior proctor at the Maples, the following permanent officers were elected: president, Marjorie McKinnon; vice-president, Ethel Bingle; treasurer, Marjorie Young; secretary, Phyllis Phillips; fire chief, Anne Bradley.

Homecoming Days To Be Held Nov. 10-11

Plans for the annual Homecoming week-end are proceeding rapidly, and the complete program is to be announced shortly. The Homecoming is to be Friday and Saturday, November 10 and 11.

The awarding of the Alumni Service Emblem will be one of the features of the luncheon which will take place Saturday, November 11, as a part of the Homecoming program. This emblem is awarded annually to an alumnus of the University or to some other person who has rendered distinguished service to the University or the Alumni Association.

In 1930 Harry E. Sutton '09, of Boston, was awarded the emblem; in 1931 Hosea B. Buck '93, of Bangor, and in 1932 C. Parker Crowell '98, of Bangor. These are the only three persons to have received the emblem, a Pine Tree "M."

A meeting of Sigma Mu Sigma, honorary psychological fraternity, was held in the psychology laboratory, 27 Stevens North, Monday evening. Names of prospective members were presented and voted on.

The MAINE SNOOPUS

CAN IT BE true, and they tell us it is true, that none other than Izzy Moyer was overheard asking the girl of his dreams the other night, "Please, may I go to the movies?" Wonderful what control a woman can have over big men.... Al Thayer seems to be rather puzzled this week, and justly so. It seems that Al has his mind more or less made up as to what his policy will be concerning co-eds. At least that assumption can be drawn from all appearances. And last week-end when a certain Helen Curran, transfer, phoned him and asked him to the Chi O party, he was greatly astonished.... It must be great to be having transfers calling up all the time asking to be taken to parties, but can it be that Al is so faithful that he refused?... The story is true.... And now that half pint George Cobb breaks into print.... The feather weight center on Maine's team not only has private detectives in the stands at the games, to see that no slurring remarks are passed when and if the whole opposing team succeeds in squashing him and if they are passed the offender is kicked none too gently in the ribs, but also was asked by a freshman at the supper table the other night whether or not he had been at the game on Saturday.... Very innocently he said he hadn't, and said freshman told him the entire story of the game.... Georgie Porgie seemed quite interested.... The Interfraternity Council has passed a rule that no two upper classmen can accompany one freshman and that no two freshmen can accompany one upper classman.... We sincerely hope that this rule isn't spread out to include co-eds.... Jack Dalton of the United States Marines, the same, seems to be gaining prominence about our campus.... Oh you Jack Dalton, I'm tired.... And Files had a most amusing birthday party this summer, with many Maine students present, of course nobody knows it, but it's so just the same.... We wonder what the treasure will be at the Phi Mu stag dance Friday night.... It is advertised as a chest of gold, well, we've heard of people with a heart of gold.... Steve Marshall and Arby Doherty almost missed the train from New Haven after the Yale game.... The boys report that romance was the cause.

Rhodes scholarship a student must be an unmarried, male citizen of the United States, and must have passed his nineteenth birthday and not have passed his twenty-fifth birthday by the 1st of October of the year for which he is elected (in 1933 scholars will be elected to enter Oxford in October, 1934). The selection will be based upon four groups of qualities specified by Mr. Rhodes in his will, namely, (1) literary and scholastic ability and attainments, (2) character, (3) qualities that make for leadership, and (4) physical vigor, as shown by interest in outdoor sports. It is rare, of course, that any candidate meets all these requirements perfectly. What is primarily insisted upon is distinction, both in character and personality and in intellect.

Applications for these scholarships this year must be in the hands of the Secretary of the Maine State Committee of Selection not later than November 18. The Secretary is Professor S. R. Ashby (Room 235, Stevens Hall), who will provide the necessary application blanks and furnish any desired information regarding the scholarships.

Last year Arthur Brown, a student of the University of Maine, was elected a Rhodes scholar, and he has entered Oxford this year. Brown's success should encourage other students at the University of Maine to compete for these scholarships. Students in all the colleges of the University are equally eligible. Furthermore, the splendid equipment of Oxford University for instruction in all university branches affords a wonderful opportunity for every student, no matter what his special interest.

STEEL BLEACHERS PUT UP FOR N. H. GAME

The steel stands were erected yesterday, on the north side of Alumni Field in anticipation of a large attendance at the New Hampshire game. Ted Curtis, faculty manager of athletics, said that students must enter the student gate, on the left of the main gate, and walk around the end of the playing field. He also stated that he was pleased with the improvement in spirit shown at the Lowell game. He hoped that the erection of the student stands would still more improve the school spirit.

Rita Lancto Addresses French Club Meeting

Miss Rita Lancto, outstanding French scholar and representative from the University of Maine during her junior year at the University of Paris, addressed the French Club at its first meeting, Wednesday evening.

Following her lecture, a short, one-act play, by a modern French author, was presented by advanced students in French.

Miss Lancto, who returned only this fall from France, recounted her year abroad and discussed the system whereby students of high standing are awarded a year of study with tuition paid in some famous European University. During the summer of 1932, Miss Lancto worked in a French school in the Loire valley of the Chateau District, later going to Paris where she studied at the University of Paris.

She has since travelled through France, Italy, Spain, and Germany.

The play, a comedy, traced the elopement of Miss Charlotte LaChance, a London bank clerk, with the maiden of his dreams, Miss Madeleine Roussin, to Paris, where they were followed by his mother, Miss Ella Rowe. Miss Hazel Feero, a countrified servant girl, Miss Frances Morrison, an interpreter, and Lionel Desjardins, a gendarme, added to the humor of the piece.

BLACK BEAR TEAM FETED IN NATIONAL RADIO TOAST

"From the rock-bound coast of Maine by the banks of the Penobscot came the fighting Black Bear of Maine to hold the Yale Bulldog to the score of 14-7."

Thus does the Maine football team enter the hall of fame, as told by the announcer on the All American radio program last Friday night. This program dealt with famous incidents of football history. A feature of the program was a tribute to the courageous Maine football team, after which the Stein Song was played. This should be of great interest to every Maine man, as it brings the university before the eyes of the country, as the Stein Song did a few years ago.

The Pi Beta Phi's held a picnic at the Ledges, Wednesday, October 18. The menu consisted of hamburgers, cider, and doughnuts. After eating, the group encircled the fire and sang Pi Phi songs.

Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, will hold its second formal meeting of the year tonight at seven o'clock in the new gymnasium.

FALL TENNIS MATCHES SPEED UP THIS WEEK

Held up during the past week by bad weather, entrants in the annual fall tennis tournament began to make up for lost time this week, when the announcement came from Coach Small that all second round matches must be completed by Saturday.

An incomplete list of the men who have qualified for the second round matches at press time is as follows: Parker Frost, Robert Hamilton, John Hamilton, Frank Fellows, Conrad Cadorette, Dick Lull, Lawrence Lappin, Stan Searles, and Ralph Wadleigh.

A further announcement from Coach Small states that the rule which forbids freshmen to enter any fraternity house or grounds does not apply to fraternity tennis courts.

WOMEN'S HOCKEY SEASON WILL OPEN NEXT MONDAY

The fall hockey season for women will officially open on October 23, Miss Helen Leaguel, assistant professor of physical education, said Wednesday.

The usual schedule of interclass games will embrace contests between all four classes. Teams will be selected this week.

In addition, on November 11, Homecoming day, an exhibition match will be played between an All-Maine team and a team of alumni.

PRESS BOX GLASSED IN

The press box at the top of the grandstand on Alumni Field has been renovated and is now equipped with large panes of glass which may be raised or lowered according to weather conditions.

It has a double floor, sheathed walls, long distance telephones, and windows on all four sides. The glass in the sides and back are for reporters to witness track and cross country meets. There are openings through which reports of the various activities may be heard. The booth will now accommodate thirty people.

The new booth is a welcome improvement this year since the final football game is played one week later than usual, and the scribes may work in comfort, free from rain and cold.

Will you be the lucky one? The Pirates have unearthed a chest of gold which will be given away at the Pirate Stag Dance October 20. Plan to come!

W. Lee Stone ex-'34, was a visitor on the campus over the week-end.

DEAN MUILENBURG SPEAKS ON RELIGION AND CHAOS

Dean James A. Muilenburg of the College of Arts and Sciences spoke to a group of about 150 women faculty members and students following a Y.W.C.A. tea and membership meeting held on Thursday in Balentine parlor. His topic was Religion and Chaos. He discussed briefly the three crises which John Truslow Adams considers in a recent magazine article: political, economic, and character. Dean Muilenburg added educational and religious crises. Religion with its reliability, he feels, will bring us toward a well-ordered life and ultimate happiness.

The Senior Skull stag dance will be held November 10.

FAVOR-HAPHEY DUEL WILL BE FEATURE OF MAINE-WILDCAT TILT

14 Veterans Plus Heavier
Line Make Visitors
Loom Strong

Two powerful actors in a mighty football drama will lead the elevens of two of the East's oldest and most dignified state universities into battle, Saturday, on the green of famous old Alumni Field.

Don Favor, whose finesse and ability aided the Maine Black Bears to two consecutive state championships, and New Hampshire's big Haphey, champion of three years of football warfare—the principals of the annual duel between the two colleges.

What Favor can do, so likewise can Haphey. Each is in himself the triple-threat athlete of the university he represents. They can pass, they can kick, and they can run.

Last Saturday, against Harvard, Haphey averaged 44 yards in his punts. Eleven out of 25 attempted passes were completed against the Crimson. In addition, he scored some brilliant open field dashes for the invading Durhams.

Favor's performance in the 14-0 Lowell Tech victory was even as sensational. He tossed six passes, four of which were complete, and one was received by big Phil Parsons for the second Maine touchdown. Outside of one bad kick, when signals became crossed, he punted deep into opposing territory. His running was likewise spectacular. Favor weighs 165 while Haphey tips the beam slightly heavier, 172.

Maine will take the field against New Hampshire outweighed in both line and backfield. The New Hampshire inner defense combination from end to end averages 182, four pounds heavier per man than Maine.

In the backfield, where New Hampshire has a 169½ average weight, Brice's pony backfield tips the beam at only 160 pounds. In addition, the Wildcats have fourteen veterans from the previous season compared to only four for Maine.

FRESHMEN SCORE FIRST WIN OVER RICKER 39-13

The University of Maine freshman football team gained its initial victory of the current campaign by downing Ricker Classical Institute 39-13 last Saturday morning on Alumni Field.

The frosh made their first score in the opening period after Braley had run back a Ricker kick to the visitor's 30 yard stripe. Ricker retaliated a few moments later, however, with a sustained drive of 80 yards for a touchdown. The third quarter saw the frosh put the game on ice by scoring three touchdowns after several brilliant runs, among which was a ninety yard touchdown jaunt by Braley. Minutti, Braley, and Dow were outstanding for Maine, while Dobbins and Rafford featured for the visitors.

before Lowell's safety man could tackle him.

After each of these scores Don Favor place kicked the extra points.

The second half of the game saw the Lowell team open up with a jig saw passing attack with triple passes a favorite. On four first downs the boys from Massachusetts took the ball down to Maine's five yard line, and it looked as though they would score. But the Maine team held and took the ball on downs.

Maine threatened heavily again in the last quarter after they had taken the ball on downs from the Lowell team on their own fifteen yard line, and brought it to Lowell's 18 yard line. Favor heaved another pass, but this time Bogacz, Lowell's left end, intercepted. So the game ended with the score the same as it was at the half.

SPORTS SPIELS

By BOB BERG

THIS AND THAT—A feature par excellence is on hand for fans in the New Hampshire-Maine football fracas—Watch the punting and forward passing duel between Don Favor of ye Black Bears and Bob Haley of ye Wildcats—Both are rated among the best in New England in their specialties—Last week in the Harvard Stadium, Haley averaged 47 yards in his punts and heaved most of the 11 passes completed by his team—Yowzah, a real treat will be enjoyed if these two gridiron stalwarts get going.

NOW AND THEN—Coach "Foxy" Brice will attempt to shake off the jinx that New Hampshire has on his elevens—Last year, Maine was in front by virtue of a touchdown when the Wildcats tied up the ball game in the last period—And the Bricemen clearly outplayed their traditional rivals—Two seasons ago, those Granite Staters chalked up a win against the Stein Songers in the last 20 seconds of play—You can wager your best Sunday hat that the Black Bear will try its hardest to stalk off the field with a victory dangling from its side.

THESE AND THOSE—The second string Maine backfield is the lightest in years and years—"Bunny" Anderson, quarterback; Carl Honer and Clyde Higgins, halfbacks; and Ken Pruett, fullback; average just 147 pounds—A true pony backfield, I swear—There will be a get-together in the game with New Hampshire—Sam Reese and Ted Butler both played on the same team at Hebron Academy with the visiting center, Bob McKiniry—This McKiniry boy is a brother of "Red" McKiniry, who competed for Maine in track last year.

WHEN AND WHERE—The Black Bear pigskin players must have surely created a record in their last two tussles with Yale and Lowell—Just one penalty was called against them in these games—That occurred in the Yale encounter when Maine was penalized 5 yards for being offside—Just a splendid example of the heads-up football and clean game played by the boys—Congratulations are still pouring in from people all over the country on Maine's tilt with the Eli Bulldog.

—Coach Brice has been asked to contribute the lead article for the November issue of the National Interscholastic Magazine for high school coaches—His story will deal with "Deceptive Football"—Last

A 70 yard touchdown march early in the first quarter gave the University of Maine Jayvees their second successive victory of the season as they defeated Higgins Classical Institute 7-0, Friday, on Alumni Field.

Taking the ball on its own 30 yard line, the Junior Varsity, with Searles and Spaulding doing most of the carrying, advanced to the seven yard line, where Sinclair plunged off tackle for the score. Pruett kicked the point.

Outside of that first quarter, the two elevens battled on even terms for most of the game. The Jayvees had ten first downs to four for Higgins, but each time that Maine threatened, the visitor's defense rose up to halt them. Peaslee made several long runs for Maine.

month, Harry Kipke, coach of Michigan, wrote the lead story—More power to you, Coach Brice.

HERE AND THERE—Imagine this—Our rip-snorting fullback, Bob Littlehale, was informed by his coach while attending Tabor Academy that he would never make a good backfield man for he would never gain an inch—He used Littlehale in the line as a guard—I wonder what that prep school maestro had to say after the Yale and Lowell frays—And here's an item from the sport section of the Colby Echo concerning our team—"The outstanding man in the line is George Cobb—Cobb chews tobacco in a tight place—It relieves strain"—Well, well, George, you've been holding out on us.

WHAT AND HOW—And maybe that side-by-side finish of the Black twins, Ernie and Ken, in the cross country dual with New Hampshire didn't chuckle the heart of Coach Chester Jenkins—Memories of the famous harrier combination of "Bud" Lindsey and Harry Richardson, who were former Maine national hill and dale title holders, were revived—Those Blacks are good and you are going to hear from them in the New England and Nationals.

Black Twins Tie for First; N. H. Team Wins

Taking the lead at the two-mile mark, the Black twins, Ken and Ernie, remained in front to tie for first place last Saturday in the annual Maine-New Hampshire cross country race which was won by New Hampshire by a margin of one point, 27-28.

Recollections of the famous Lindsey-Richardson combination, national cross country champions of a few years ago, were brought back as the twins, matching stride for stride, crossed the tape amidst the cheers of the spectators of the Maine-Lowell Textile game, having covered the five mile course in 30 minutes, 3 3-5 seconds.

Following the winners came Dave Westcott, champ of the Wildcat frosh harriers of last year, with his teammates, DeMoultied and Glover, crossing the tape behind him. Sprinting at the finish, Joe Marsh thwarted Ed Blood's attempt to overtake him, and placed sixth. Behind Blood came Fred Murray, New Hampshire, with Bob Wishart and Harry Saunders, both Pale Blue plodders, finishing ninth and tenth respectively.

A strategic point in the battle for sales

Today's intense competition calls for new and more effective merchandising methods. Several plans pioneered by Bell System men are proving helpful.

For example: the "Where to Buy It" section of the telephone book. Here local dealers are listed beneath the trade-marks of advertised products—such as Plymouth, Greyhound Lines, Exide, RCA Victor. This service helps manufacturers to reduce substitution, helps dealers to increase sales, helps you to locate the brand you want.
